

WHAT WE DO

The Family Advocacy Clinic supports families who want to “find their voice” and strengthen advocacy skills. Specifically, we help parents and children to understand and communicate which resources and actions can help address challenges related to education, health and social wellness. We explain legal rights but do not offer any legal advice or services.

As a result of our services, families:

- ▶ Learn valuable information and connect with resources
- ▶ Build relationships
- ▶ Understand goals, options and legal rights
- ▶ Reflect and make adjustments along the way
- ▶ Strengthen resiliency
- ▶ Can take action

The Family Advocacy Clinic thanks the following friends and supporters:

Child Guidance Resource Centers' Truancy and Delinquency Prevention Partnership

WHO WE SUPPORT

We support families facing various challenges, including:

- ▶ Learning or behavioral issues in school (special education, 504 plans, etc.)
- ▶ School discipline (truancy, suspension or expulsion)
- ▶ Mental health and substance abuse
- ▶ Education and employment for transition ages 13–25
- ▶ Juvenile justice

HOW WE DO IT

We use a collaborative, non-adversarial approach when helping a family to find their voice and strengthen the “3Rs”:

- ▶ Relationships
- ▶ Reflection
- ▶ Resiliency

WHO WE ARE

The Family Advocacy Clinic is staffed by Delaware County Community College’s Paralegal Studies faculty and students. The clinic is also supported by the College’s Computer Science, Early Childhood and Social Work departments and community volunteers. We have experience facing similar challenges as your family.
